growth of service sector through extension of manpower training and provision of liberal bank finance in view of the fact that service sector accounts for 40 per cent of our GDP;

(c) if so, the details thereof; and

(d) if not, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF PLANNING (SHRI M.V. RAJASEKHARAN): (a) Yes, Sir. The Services sector has been the fastest growing component of the Indian economy in recent years and is expected to continue to play a leading role in the future.

(b) to (d) Different Ministries of Government of India are already engaged in removing barriers to growth and in creating enabling environment for services sector to blossom. The Services sector is very diverse and inter-alia includes sub-sectors like education, health, transport, services, communications, banking and other financial services, retail trade, other trade, real estate, public administration, software, BPO, commercial services, etc. Each of these has its own issues and problems, and, therefore, each sector needs a different mechanism and strategy for exploring its potential for growth. Different Ministries/Departments of the Government of India are also responsible for drawing up of strategies for manpower development and for encouraging liberal bank finance.
